END THE WAREHOUSE WORKER INJURY CRISIS!

1 IN 11 NEW YORK WAREHOUSE WORKERS ARE INJURED EVERY YEAR.
NY'S INJURY RATE IS 54% HIGHER THAN THE NATIONAL AVERAGE.

And the crisis is only getting worse; with the rise of Amazon and e-commerce, warehousing is one of the fastest growing industries in New York. But federal and state law don't require jobs to be designed for injury prevention. We're fighting to end that.

THE SOLUTION: WAREHOUSE WORKER INJURY REDUCTION ACT

(S5081 / A8907) Lead sponsors Senator Jessica Ramos and Assemblymember Harry Bronson

- Protect workers doing warehouse work from the hazards of poorly-designed work equipment and tasks.
- Require worksite evaluation by professionals to identify and address hazards.
- Employers must provide training to all workers handling materials and performing tasks at the warehouse.
- On-site medical office or first aid station must be staffed with medical professionals.
